

sarnia

justice film festival
2016–2017

Bikes vs. Cars

Saturday, October 8, 2016

The bicycle, an amazing tool for change. Activists and cities all over the world are moving toward a new system. But will the economic powers allow it? The film follows individuals around the world who are fighting to create change.

Minimalism: A Documentary About the Important Things

Saturday, November 12, 2016

How might your life be better with less? This film examines minimalism by taking us inside the lives of minimalists who are striving to live a meaningful life with less.

The Mask You Live In

Saturday, January 14, 2017

How can we raise a healthier generation of boys and young men? The film follows boys and young men as they struggle to stay true to themselves while negotiating society's narrow definition of masculinity.

Paper Tigers

Saturday, February 18, 2017

Paper Tigers follows a year in the life of an alternative high school that has radically changed its approach to disciplining its students, becoming a promising model for how to break the cycles of poverty, violence and disease that affect families.

The Apology

Saturday, March 25, 2017

More than 200,000 women were forced into sexual slavery by the Japanese Imperial Army during WW2. A handful of these women, now known as 'grandmas' and all in their 80s and 90s, are demanding an official apology – justice.

Bugs

Saturday, April 22, 2017

Are insects the new superfood that will fix all our problems of global food security? Insects have been heralded for their taste, low-ecological impact, and nutritional content. Bet you can't eat just one!

The Sarnia Justice Film Festival exists to promote the understanding of justice issues while advocating for the well-being of local and global neighbours.

All films are screened free of charge at the Sarnia Library Theatre.

justicefilm@sympatico.ca | www.facebook.com/SarniaJusticeFilmFestival | Twitter: @SarniaJusticeFF